

You are the Agony Aunt...

As the Computer Science Agony Aunt (or uncle, it's up to you...) you receive a lot of letters asking for your help and advice about computers.

There are just three letters left that you need to answer before you can go home for the evening...

You are the Agony Aunt...

Dear Auntie,

I've asked my friend to give me his password for the online game that we both play but he has refused.

I don't get it, why won't he let me use his password when we are such good friends?

Imran from Bolton

You are the Agony Aunt...

Dear Auntie,

So, um, why do I need to keep making new passwords? I've got one I remember so I can't see why I need to bother with more.

Is there a reason that I should make new passwords?

Jodi from Lincoln

You are the Agony Aunt...

Dear Auntie,

I need to make a new password. Can you give me some advice on dos and don'ts about making a password?

Sammy from Bristol