

Cyberbullying

Cyber-bullying can include things like:

- calling people names, either directly or in other public areas of the internet
- sending threatening messages
- ignoring people
- bugging people
- texting someone in a hurtful way
- creating hurtful images of someone
- pretending to be someone else