

Everything that is stored in a computer ends up as a number

Computers work using electricity

Electrical circuits use switches

Switches in electrical circuits can be either on or off

Computers use the same numbers we use for everything

Computers use something called binary numbers

Binary numbers are 0s and 1s

You can make any number using binary numbers